Step 1: Verify Your Eligibility

Before you even open the Notary Public License Law Booklet, you need to confirm that you meet the basic eligibility criteria set forth by the New York State Department of State. These requirements are designed to ensure that only qualified, trustworthy individuals receive the authority to administer oaths, witness signatures, and perform other official acts.

Minimum Age and Residency

You must be at least 18 years old and a resident of New York State. If you are a U.S. citizen or a legal resident, you must have lived in the state for at least 90 days prior to applying.

Legal Capacity and Moral Character

Applicants must not have been convicted of any felony in the last 10 years, nor be on probation or parole. The Department also requires a clean criminal record, which is verified through a background check.

Professional Background

While there is no specific profession required, certain fields—such as law, real estate, or finance—naturally align with the duties of a notary. The booklet explains that professional experience can be advantageous but is not mandatory.

Notary Public Bond and Insurance

New York requires a $10,000 surety bond, which protects the public against potential misconduct. The booklet provides a list of approved bond providers and details the bond application process.

Step 2: Complete the Application Form

The application form is the official document that initiates your notary license. The Notary Public License Law Booklet contains a copy of the form, a detailed instruction sheet, and a checklist of required documents.

1. Proof of identity (e.g., driver's license, passport)
2. Proof of residency (utility bill, lease agreement)
3. Background check clearance (if required)
4. Bond application confirmation

Fill Out the Form Accurately

The booklet emphasizes the importance of accuracy. Even minor errors—such as a misspelled name—can cause your application to be rejected or delayed.

Pay the Filing Fee

As of 2024, the filing fee for a notary public application is $10. The booklet specifies acceptable payment methods, including check, money order, and credit card through the Department's online portal.
